REPORT

Date APRIL 12th, 1929.

Subject (in full) re - Dr. Joseph C. H. Chou (周葉衍).

Made by C.D.I. J.W. Prince Forwarded by J.H. Guiver A.C. Pol

Reference to the attached, Dr. Joseph C.H. Chou (周葉衍), a native of Hangchow, 32 years of age, lives at No. 449 Thibet Road, in the premises of the Grand Ophthalmic Clinic. Chou joined the Chinese Labour Corps, B.E.F. France, as interpreter in February 1917, and returned to Shanghai in May 1920. After his repatriation he continued his studies at the Hangchow Christian College, and graduated from that college in 1922. He afterwards entered the Customs Service where he was a tidewaiter for four years, and left this position in March 1927. Since then he studied under his brother-in-law Dr. G. T. Chen (陳志莊), a graduate of the Peking Union Medical College, Peking. Dr. Chen died in December 22nd, 1928, and his widow Dr. Queenie Chen (陳周瑤), age 44, a native of Hangchow, a graduate of Edingburgh Hospital of Maternity, Nursery, and Physicians, England, is at present in-charge of the Church Missionary Society Women's Hospital, Hangchow. Dr. Chou has been assistant to his sister Dr. Queenie Chen (陳周瑤.) for the past two years, but he has no diploma.
